It's a cool brisk morning on race day and you've settled into that familiar rhythm as you glide along Amish countryside roads at the base of the Welsh Mountain. The smell of springtime is in the air as you pass soft rolling farms, bright green pastures of cows and a horse drawn plow tilling a field. Amish children are barreling down their farm lane to keep up with you on their scooters. In the distance a horse and buggy faintly appears on the road. The countryside is amazing and you're realizing this is an experience you will never forget!

We hope to see you on April 9th!
